

Chewies antlers

Lasting chewing fun

Chewies antlers offer dogs weeks of natural chewing fun. They have a bony substance that surrounds the delicious antler marrow. With red deer, this layer is thicker than with fallow deer. This allows you to match the hardness of the antlers to the biting power of your dog. Our untreated antlers are monoprotein and also ideally suited for nutritionally sensitive four-legged friends. They also contain calcium, which helps to maintain normal bones and teeth. With the half red deer antlers, the tasty marrow is already exposed. These are good for beginners and less active chewers. All our antlers are 100 % natural discarded antlers. Both species shed them once a year and a new one grows back. Chewies antlers are therefore an absolutely lasting chewing pleasure. They are odourless and do not crumble.

An interesting piece of nature for dogs.
