Chewies antler chewing snacks

Chewies red deer antler sticks and Chewies fallow deer antler chewing snacks are made from 100 % discarded antlers of red deer and fallow deer. These antler beams and pieces are collected and processed into Chewies antler chewing snacks. Dogs love discarded antlers and antler pieces for their texture. The structure is hard and extremely robust, whereas Chewies fallow deer antlers are slightly softer than the Chewies red deer antler sticks.

Chewies coffee tree chewing stick

Chewies coffee tree chewing sticks are pure nature and a special chewing experience for dogs. The natural form and the pleasant wood make the chewing sticks very attractive for large and small four-legged friends. They are made of one hundred per cent pure coffee tree, which is harder than many domestic types of wood. The sustainable and natural woods are ideal as a low-risk alternative to sticks from the forest.

Chewies chewing roots

Chewies chewing roots are gained from a Mediterranean hardwood that is very robust. The roots of this special heather variety are harvested in an ecologically correct manner and sorted and ground into different sizes for each dog breed. Their compact form is very enticing for many dogs and encourages them to gnaw and chew. The root offers furry friends lasting and natural chewing pleasure. It is also calorie-free and can support dental care.

Chewies olive wood chewing stick

Chewies olive wood chewing sticks are a natural chewing snack for dogs and available in five sizes. The olive wood keeps its bark, it is just sanded lightly. This natural bark content is very appealing to dogs. They love the Chewies olive wood chewing stick for their lasting chewing fun or as a great toy for fetching. Olive wood is one of the hardest woods. It does not absorb odours and does not soak up water.

Chewies Weinreben chewing stick & chewing bulb

Our sustainable vines come from the annual pruning of Germany's wine-growing regions. The robust wood is only roughly debarked and therefore retains a good grip for dogs and is one hundred per cent natural. Cracks in the wood make attractive incentives to nibble. Lasting fun for all dogs who love to chew.
