catz finefood quality for seniors

Older cats can now look forward to first-class senior feed, with to provide them with ideal nourishment – and with the familiar catz finefood quality and well-liked taste. The recipes of catz finefood CLASSIC SENIOR are tailored precisely to the age-related needs of greying fluff balls. A biological ageing process takes place in cats, during which energy requirements, metabolism and the performance of the internal organs change. These aspects are taken into account in the composition of the complete grain-free feed. The same basic recipes, which are based on the prey animal concept, retain the familiar taste of catz finefood CLASSIC. This means that older cats can continue to enjoy their favourite feed without having to readjust. For lively and happy felines – right into old age.
